

The tale of Rama..... a poem.

One day, long ago in India, the gods of India pondered in the palace of gods yonder about the evil demon, Ravanna. The demon was on a rampage and making damage.

Meanwhile, the king of India was worrying about his blurry future.

He did not have a son to take his throne.

The king prays to the gods for a son,
The gods say that to send 4 sons with the power of vishnu.

So then a holy man appears with rice pudding,
for the king will feed his four wives with the rice pudding.

The strongest son is born, whose name is Rama, among with his other brothers-Lakshmana, Bharata, and Shatrughna.

But the jealous mother of Dhabara,
the brother of Rama, will banish Rama to the forest.

When Lakshmana, Rama, and Sita, Rama's wife, arrive at the forest, they adapt to the lifestyle and rest well.

One day, the evil demon, Ravanna's sister saw Rama and Lakshmana,
And she approached the brothers.

But she was furious,
for both of the brothers denied her.

When the sister demon told his brother,
Khara this, Khara coldly kidnapped Sita.

By then, Rama finds out,
and goes to wind out the demons.

After fierce battles,
Rama saves Sita.
